Dear Rick, Mbak Nova (and Eric too!),

Thanks for the update. You know that we always try to follow the case's development as much as we can, and this blog help us a lot in doing so.

I know that in the end Newmont will win. However, the most important thing to me --- call me selfish--- is to know that you and your family are well, and happy ---as happy as you can be---. You are a truly good man, you do not have to mine gold as you already have a heart of gold and you don't deserve any of this hoohah.

Every other night, I still have this nightmare with Baby Andini in it. It is still very fresh in my mind how you emailed me telling me to help her in any way, no matter how much it would cost and what ever it would take.... and that was long before it became a frenzy media coverage or a legal case. You said you would cover all the costs with money from your own pocket. [YYYYYYYY] and [XXXXXX] with the help of Dr. Sandra tried to do our best to help her. It still haunts me....

Saw your pics with Mbak Nova and tons of tuna. You both look well....and hahahahahah..... where did you get those many tins of tuna from.

Keep well!

Warmest greetings.

[XXXXXXX & YYYYYYYYYYYY]

Hi [XXXXXXXXXXXX],

Thanks for the nice e-mail...

And yes I agree that babies Andini's unnecessary death is a travesty and those that blocked and advised her mother against her receiving proper health care are despicable people. I have the utmost contempt for anyone who would exploit a child's illness and use a baby as a poster child for their own political or extremist agendas. To block health care to a sick child in my opinion is nothing short of murder.

Please rest assured that you did everything you could; you were not the one blocking her health care. Remember, both Dr. Sandra and Dr. Winsy also offered free medical treatment and hospitalization. But her parents were advised not to follow the Dr.'s recommendations by others with a different agenda.

At the end of the day, those who perpetrated this travesty against Andini and the people of the Buyat community will be judged for their crimes. If not [judged] in the courts of this country, then by a judge who is very impartial at the time of their passing from this life. Those crimes, including causing a wrongful death, fauda *, and fitnah , will be judged in the end by Allah

Take care, thanks for the e-mail and sleep well.

With best regards,

Rick
